

MRS. MCCRAW'S EXPECTATIONS

Geometry

Fall 2015

Center for Academics and Technology

In order to succeed in a mathematics class, you must practice. This practice is called homework. There will be a homework assignment nearly every day.

In order for homework to receive full credit, it must be done on time. I will not tolerate cheating, and you will receive no credit for the assignment or test. Bring your materials to class every day – this includes your book, something to write with, your folder, paper, and a highlighter. Detentions can be given for a lack of materials.

All school rules are followed in the classroom. This includes wearing your uniform correctly: navy blue polo tucked in and belted tan pants. You may wear a navy blue or white shirt underneath your polo, or a plain sweatshirt over the polo. You will not be allowed into the classroom unless you are properly dressed. The tardy policy is strictly followed. Tardy refers to anyone not in his or her seat when the bell rings – running into the room creates a possible hazard to your classmates. Please use the bathroom during the passing periods. I do not give bathroom passes. At the end of the period, the bell does not dismiss you; I do. Please wait for my signal to get up from your desk.

If you are absent, it is your responsibility to get the missed assignments. Usually they are posted on moodle. Homework and tests should be made up as soon as possible.

No food or drink is allowed in the classroom except water. Please be sure the water is in a plastic bottle (no glass.) All food should stay in the cafeteria. Please make sure your cell phone is turned OFF (not silent or vibrate).

Above all else, students are expected to show respect to me, to their classmates, and to themselves. It is my job to teach, just as it is your job to learn. Do not impede the learning of others. All students are responsible for the classroom policies and procedures. I reserve the right to amend these procedures as necessary.

MRS. MCCRAW'S EXPECTATIONS

Geometry

If you are struggling with this class, it is up to you to ask for help. I am usually here before and after school for tutoring – just let me know before you come. I may also be available during your lunch hour. Please feel free to talk to me anytime about classroom procedures or about your grades. Together we can make a difference and find success!

- * Do nothing that prevents you from learning
- * Do nothing that prevents others from learning
- * Do nothing that prevents me from teaching

Failure is not an option!!
